

Do you need help with training or finding a job?

Workforce Services can help youth get education, training and jobs. Visit the training services page at jobs.utah.gov for more information.

JOB SEARCHING ASSISTANCE

- Learn how to access thousands of job postings at jobs.utah.gov.
- Set up an individualized job seeker profile to find the jobs you are interested in.
- Download our mobile app to search for jobs.
- Attend workshops in-person or online to learn the importance of resumés, job search strategies, networking, etc.
- Find out what jobs pay and which ones are in demand.

POST-SECONDARY EDUCATION AND TRAINING

- Take assessments to find which type of education or training is best for you.
- Use UtahFutures.org to compare training programs, costs and find out about financial aid. Take practice entrance exams and prepare for training certification tests.
- Learn about training schools and programs, costs, and if they are offered on campus or online.
- Get help applying for FAFSA (federal student aid) and finding scholarships.
- Get help setting up campus tours, scheduling appointments with academic advisors and researching housing options.

LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT ACTIVITIES

- Prepare to live on your own responsibly: learn skills such as problem solving, communication, relationships, time management and more.
- Participate in workshops like Assertive Communication, healthy couple relationships, or classes on decision-making and resolving conflicts.
- Get involved in youth council meetings to help other youth be successful.

HELP ACCESSING RESOURCES

- Health care
- Food assistance or child care for those who are working and have children
- Expungement of a record or how to get bonded if applying for work with a criminal background
- Referrals for housing assistance
- Counseling or help with domestic violence or substance abuse

If you or someone you know aged 14-24 is interested, apply for training services at

jobs.utah.gov 